ZHENGZHOU FOREIGN LANGUAGE SCHOOL

I was once an IELTS lecturer and textbook writer and later became the East China Consultant for Cambridge ESOL. I am now an education consultant for international schools in China and help to operate a handful of Cambridge and Edexcel A-Level schools in China.

I have known Opal Consulting through one of the projects I worked on as the Head of Cambridge A-Level Centre at Zhengzhou Foreign Language School.

It is my pleasure to recommend Opal Consulting to you. Opal Consulting is a strong business with a focus in making British education brands successful in China. Zhengzhou Foreign Language School is the best school in Henan Province and sends around 200 students to Peking University and Tsinghua University every year, which are the Oxford and Cambridge of China, as well as circa 80 students annually to the Top 100 universities in the world.

Opal helped Zhengzhou Foreign Language School to work on collaboration with a British independent school in 2016. Working with Opal has been a pleasure in many ways. They take care of the needs of partners seriously and have provided us with invaluable insights during the collaboration. They are always responsive to a variety of requests and their local presence in China has really helped to improve our efficiency. Their team is professional and approachable and their network is strong both in China and in the UK. Opal has shown their irreplaceable value in making cross-border education projects happen and they certainly have the capability of helping us finding the right partners to work with.

I have been extremely pleased with the performance of Opal Consulting in my project and hope to continue working with them for many years to come. I would recommend them to you without a single doubt.

Yours faithfully,

Li Ning
