

To whom it may concern:

I am a Director at Star America, which is a company that actively invests on projects ranging from kindergartens to senior schools in China. We own half a dozen kindergartens in Shanghai as well as an A-Level school. I personally also invest in kindergarten projects as well as school agencies across China.

I am delighted to recommend to you 'Opal Consulting', an excellent company in connecting British schools to the Chinese market with whom I have worked extensively these years on multiple projects.

Working with 'Opal Consulting' has been a pleasure that few other companies have managed to provide. I have been able to sign collaboration with a leading British Boarding school through their professional services and organised for our company and my team by their friendly and efficient staff.

Through working with them, it is clear that 'Opal Consulting' has a wide network in both China and the UK which they utilise very well to help their clients in both countries. Their project team have a unique understanding of both the western and eastern cultures and have helped to vastly improve efficiency in communications, strategic design, decision making and daily operations by bridging this natural gap between the two cultures.

'Opal Consulting' has helped many British education providers find the right partner in China and delivered success after success. I heartedly recommend 'Opal Consulting' as a reliable partner to you.

Yours sincerely,
